Roberts of Newtown, who is the temporary secretary of the organization which will operate a Senior High School of grades 9-12 at Newtown and a Junior High School at Richboro of grades 7 and 8. This is the most important step taken towards improving secondary school opportunities in this area since 1914. This plan is a temporary arrangement and it is hoped that it will be carried out until a new high school is built. The new school set-up will be operated by a joint board comprising Newtown Township, Newtown Borough, Upper Makefield Township, Northampton Township, and Wrightstown Township. All of the school boards, each by unanimous vote, decided to begin the operation of the new program at the end of this school year. A savings to the local districts of from $6000 to $10,000 was estimated. County Superintendent Charles H. Boehm is chairman of the temporary organization.

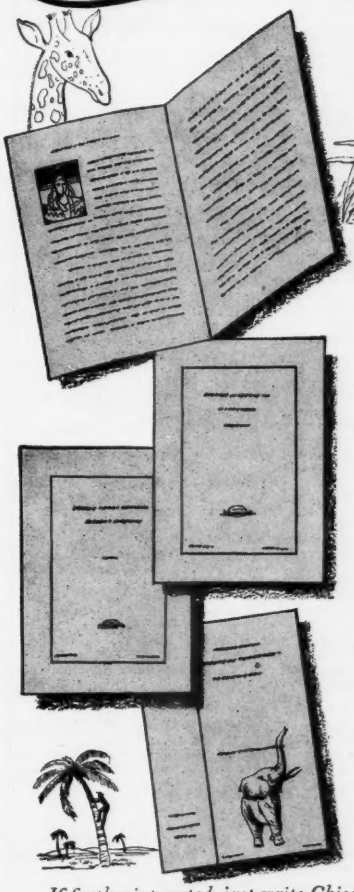
New Horizons in Teaching

Suggestions we hope you will find interesting and helpful



Museum Stories in leaflet form . . .

an aid for your natural science classes

You might find effective help in stimulating children's interests in natural sciences in this series of leaflet-size, illustrated Museum Stories, published by the Chicago Natural History Museum.

These Museum Stories appeal to the natural curiosities and interests of children of 10 years and older and fit easily into the classroom routine . . . yet provide that "break" in routine that sometimes proves so effective from the teaching standpoint. The single-fold leaflets, punched for notebook insertion, are written simply and entertainingly. Subjects range from glaciers to pygmies, and there are well over 100 to choose from.

If further interested, just write Chicago Natural History Museum, Chicago 5, Illinois. Listings of Museum Stories are free; the leaflets, a penny a copy.

There's real enjoyment for you in delicious tasting Wrigley's Spearmint Gum. After a long day at school the pleasant chewing seems to help relieve tension, makes concentration easier.

"Ready — Get Set — Go!"

The formula most natural to childhood—in the classroom as well as in the schoolyard—is embodied in the

NUMBER READINESS SERIES

CAMPBELL • WREN • OSBURN

"Ready" —Each book of the series opens with a readiness or inventory chapter which tests the child's level of understanding and supplies flexible diagnostic exercises. Every seventh chapter provides review and self-helps. With these aids, plus the gradual treatment of certain topics over a period of several grades, learning becomes a cumulative, expansive process in which each new step makes the pupil ready for the next.

"Get Set" —Each process is explained to the child before he undertakes to learn its method. With understanding as a foundation, his mind begins to build a structure of relatively permanent learning.

"Go!"—Mastery of procedure is ensured by abundant drill for the pupil who is "ready" and "set" to "Go!"

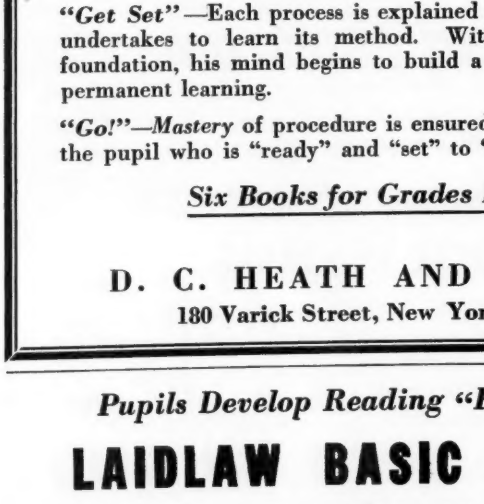
Pupils Develop Reading "POWER" With

LAIDLAW BASIC READERS



This popular and successful series is based on pupil's experiences and provides for a growth in these experiences through selections which inspire the child with the great ideals of the race. Pupils will read readily with power because:.

1. A reading readiness program at the beginning of each grade helps lay the foundation for outstanding reading achievement.
2. The teaching plan provides for teaching reading skills in each grade and stresses specific objectives and suggested procedure that will assure pupil growth from grade to grade.
3. A speech improvement program, based on a phonetic test chart, emphasizes correct speech habits and facilitates interpretive reading.
